2. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow :

But it would have been fatal for him to know ! Can't you understand that ? He wasn't even to suspect how ill he was. The doctors came to me privately and told me his life was in danger – that nothing could save him but a winter in the south. Do you think I didn't try diplomacy first ? I told him how I longed to have a trip abroad, like other young wives; I wept and prayed; I said he ought to think of my condition, and not to thwart me; and then I hinted that he could borrow the money. But then, Christina, he got almost angry. He said I was frivolous, and that it was his duty as a husband not to yield to my whims and fancies – so he called them. Very well, thought I, but saved you must be; and then I found the way to do it'.

Subhash Chandra Bose was a great leader of India. His countrymen called him 'Netaji' because he led them on the right path. He went to jail many times. But he soon found that more efforts should be made to make India free. The British power was getting weaker in the Second World War. He thought of striking at it from all sides. One day he escaped from Calcutta in the disguise of a Pathan and escaped to Germany. From there he went to Japan. He organised the Indian National Army that fought many battles against the British armies. He said to his countrymen, 'Give me blood and I will give you freedom'. At his appeal hundreds of Indians abroad gave their all for the good of India. It was a bad day for India that Netaji died in an air crash. We shall always remember him as the greatest fighter for the freedom of India.

- (ii) Love is undoubtedly the most powerful gift of God, which must form the basis of all our daily activities. Selflessness is the greatest attribute of love. Sacrifice and service are two essential elements of true love. True love makes a person dedicate his entire life for the good of others. True love leads to total dedication and ultimate surrender. It makes no demand and sets no preconditions. True love is indeed complete, absolute and total. True love will greatly lead one to divine love for God, it is indeed love and love is God. Devotion is the purest form of love. It is true devotion that brings results. Even an iota of selfishness is absent from this form of love. In our day to day life for achieving excellence, we must follow the principle as below :- "We must love everyone unconditionally."

8. Translate the following passage into Hindi :

Life of Alfred Noble

About a hundred year ago, a man looked at the morning newspaper and to his surprise and horror, read his name in the obituary column. The newspaper had reported the death of the wrong person by mistake. His first response was shock. Am I here on earth or there ? When he regained his consciousness, his second thought was to find out what people had said about him. From that day onward, he started working towards peace and excellence. His name was Alfred Nobel and he is remembered today by the great Noble Prize.

Moral : If one becomes self-aware of himself, then it is possible to change the destiny.
